Over the past two academic years, the school counseling department has developed programming based on the Massachusetts School Counselors Association’s MA Model for Accountable, Comprehensive School Counseling Programs (MA Model 2.0). The MA Model 2.0 components consist of:

Foundation, Accountability, Management, Delivery

Massachusetts school counselors must collect and analyze data that demonstrates how the counseling program supports student achievement and school improvement, as well as college and career readiness.

College representatives visit Mount Everett every fall. School Counseling office brings students to the annual College Fair in the fall. College visits are organized through the school counseling office, National Honors Society and Student Government.

Additional college tours are set up by student interest and funded by the Perkins Grant. This year students will visit Fashion Institute of Technology and Culinary Institute of America. All Grade 10 students participate in Job Shadow Day.

The following is part two of an update about the instructional programming implemented this year and the supports in place for the coming school year.

Fundations Overview

Based on the Wilson Reading System® principles, Wilson Fundations® provides research-based materials and strategies essential to a comprehensive reading, spelling, and handwriting program. Fundations makes learning to read fun while laying the groundwork for life-long literacy. Students in grades K-3 receive a systematic program in critical foundational skills, emphasizing:

- Phonemic awareness
- Phonics/ word study
- High frequency word study
- Reading fluency
- Vocabulary
- Comprehension strategies
- Handwriting
- Spelling

The instruction aligns with states’ rigorous college- and career-ready standards, including those in Massachusetts English Language Arts/Literacy Curriculum Frameworks. Although Fundations includes comprehension strategies, it must be combined with a core/literature-based language arts program for an integrated and comprehensive approach to reading and spelling.

Fundations is a prevention/early intervention with whole group, explicit reading instruction for grades K-3. Grade K students, for example, use Level K Fundations activities to learn letter-keyword-sound, alphabetic order, and letter-formation skills.

As a prevention program, Fundations helps reduce reading and spelling failure. It is integral to a Response to Intervention (RTI) framework, providing research-based instruction in Tier 1 and early intervention (Tier 2) for students at risk for reading difficulties. To support the implementation of a RTI framework, progress monitoring is built into Fundations. This allows students requiring a more intensive program to be identified early before undergoing years of struggle.

Fundations at our Elementary Schools

We introduced Fundations at UME in grades K- and 1 this year with plans to begin in grade 2 next year. This whole group, Tier 1 instruction happens at the classroom level with additional Tier 2 instruction for identified at-risk readers provided by Title I teachers at UME. Over the course of the last two years, most classroom teachers and interventions working in grades K-2 in both elementary schools have received training from Wilson Language to ensure the rollout and fidelity to the program necessary for success.

NMC teachers in grades K-2 will start Fundations next year while funds for materials and additional training have been budgeted to implement Fundations at South Egremont in the fall.
Guided Reading at our Elementary Schools

Guided reading is another research-based approach to teaching reading (Laquinta, 2006) that is an essential part of a balanced and comprehensive literacy program. This small-group reading instruction is designed to provide differentiated teaching to a broad range of learners in a classroom (Pinnell & Fountas, 2010).

The teacher uses a range of assessment tools to determine their students’ strengths and deficits to place them into small groups according to instructional needs. This allows the teacher to focus precisely on what the students need to learn in order to advance. The teacher selects a text that provides students with a few challenges, as well as enough support to read it with a high degree of accuracy (90% or greater). Before students read the text, the teacher prepares them by offering some information about the story’s topic. This introduction to the text is designed to give students scaffolds, as well as opportunities for problem solving.

The students read the entire text in a soft voice. The teacher listens to each student and teaches, prompts, and/or reinforces strategic actions. After students finish reading, the teacher invites the group to discuss the text and guides the discussion toward improving students’ comprehension. The teacher often selects one or two teaching points from the text to work on with the group to expand their strategic processing.

Through careful text selection and strong teaching, skillful educators can help students learn to problem solve, decode, and deeply comprehend more and more challenging materials. Most importantly, guided reading can help students become independent learners who want to read.

Guided Reading at our Elementary Schools

In summer of 2017, grade 1 UME teacher Christina Carlson and Title I Coordinator JoAnn Gavrity completed a 2-day Guided Reading training offered by Jan Richardson at the Literacy Footprint Institute (LFI) a division of Pioneer Valley Books in Northampton, MA. This summer, UME teachers in grades K-1-2 with their Title I colleagues are enrolled in another 3-day Guided Reading training with Jan Richardson at LFI.

From November 2017 through March 2018, several of our elementary teachers from UME and NMC in grades K-4 along with special educators and interventionists (Title I) participated in a peer-lead book study about Guided Reading practices. Led by Christina Carlson and JoAnn Gavrity, the participants worked through The Next Step Forward in Guided Reading by Jan Richardson, Ph.D., with five (5) earning district-issued PDPs for the completion of a related, outside project.

In addition, we have used Title I funds to purchase materials from Pioneer Valley Books to ensure we have a range of leveled texts are available to support Guided Reading work next year in these grades levels at UME in grades K-4.

Finally, we continue to address how to offer a balanced literacy program at the elementary level. Next year teachers and administrators will evaluate the role our current core-reading program Journeys has played in an integrated approach to literacy for students in grades K-5 during its past six (6) years of use. They will assess what direction we take to implement literature and non-fiction based reading into our elementary language arts curriculum that also supports our core-writing instruction program Empowering Writers in grades K-6 and early literacy with Fundations in grades K-2.

Literacy Coaching at UME

Kristen Burke, (no relation) a consultant from Berkshire Literacy Group, has been working this year with classroom teachers and Title I interventionists in grades K-4 at UME to support the implementation of Fundations and Guided Reading practices. By the end of the school year, Ms. Burke will have done grade-level coaching paid through grant funds with all of these UME teaching teams. In addition, she will have introduced herself to our NMC faculty as a potential resource for next year as they begin their work with Fundations. Finally, NMC’s grade 1-2 teacher Elizabeth O’Donnell, who is Wilson certified and familiar with Fundations, may serve as an onsite resource for her colleagues.

Respectfully submitted,

Kerry Burke

Re: May 10, 2018 Director’s Report for School Committee Meeting

Hello!

Our Coordinated Program Review onsite portion, conducted by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, will conclude on May 10th. The report will likely be issued in fall 2018 and I will share the information as soon as it is available. Special Education, Civil Rights, and English Language Education programs and supports are being reviewed. More to come!

A reminder about our next discussion in our series, entitled Working with English Learners (hosted by SEPAC and the Department of Student Services, which was moved April 24th to May 22nd). Christine Martin, our ESL teacher and ELE Coordinator, will be conducting the discussion on May 22nd at 3pm in the Mt. Everett Library. We hope that you find these discussions informative and all are invited to attend. Hope to see you there!

Special Olympics was held on May 2nd at Monument Mountain High School track/field. Many of our students participated as athletes and volunteers. Faculty, staff, and family members were there to support and cheer them on. It was truly a great day!

Our final, half-day training on facilitating effective IEP meetings will be held on June 14th. We rescheduled to allow our trainer to recover from an automobile accident, but she is now on the mend! This year-long training and implementation of best practices is evident in our student documentation already. We are fortunate to have grant-funds available for this valuable training!

We are busily planning summer school, which will run from July 10-August 2 (T, W, and Th). We are extending the day for our special education summer program, to allow students to receive all supports and services (and also have a little time to socialize and do a few fun activities). Summer will be here before we know it!

Thanks to all for supporting our budget and our programs. Without the support of our families, committee members, and towns, we would not be able to provide programs that meet all of our student needs in such a comprehensive way. Thank you all again!

Respectfully submitted,

Sandi
